May Be Body of Frederick Kuehn, Who Wrote of Suicide Weighted with Anchor-Another Theory Is Body Is That of Charles Russell.

What the police authorities of Rockaway believe to be a mufder was brought to light to-day by the finding of a body of a man in Jamaica Bay. A rope was tied around the neck of the drowned man and attached to the end of the rope was a heavy anchor. The hands were also tied.

There were no marks of identification on the body. The man had on a light suit of underclothes and a sock on his right foot. The anchor bore the indented mark of "19-95 John street."

Charles G. Easton, of No. 10 West Thirty-sixth street, Bayonne, was fishing off Bay View avenue, when he noticed a dark object rising and falling in the water with the sweep of the tide. Rowing out to the object, Easton discovered it to be the body of a man.
